It seems that to accomplish his hellish work, it was necessary to employ his own son, a small boy, to assist him. He set his fence on fire, and instructed his little son to perpetrete the deed. After he set the fence on fire, he sent the little boy to the house after his (the boy's) mother, to come and put the fire out, while he (the father) secreted himself in the woods near by, telling the boy before this, that while his mother was engaged in extinguishing the fire, to approach her from behind and set her clothes on fire, which he did, and before she was aware, her clethes were in a engaged in organizing a standing army of to distribute themselves upon designated blaze, burning them entirely off, and of ten thousand men. THEATER.-We confess that, prepared as we were to witness the success of a debutante we were totally surprised to discover such an amount of talent as was exhibited by Miss Jennie llight last evening. We have seen "A Day in Paris" performed by ali the leeding comedy ladies of the country, but we have rarely seen it better, and seldom, indeed so well acted by any of them. Jennie abso lutely dazzled us with good taste, fine effect and graceful ease of her personatione. Never since the days of Placide have we so enjoyed the theater as last evening. The fair Jennie has talent of a very high order. and it will be cruel to confine her hereafter to the dance. Despite the weather, the audience was very large, and we heard but one opinion-wonder at the falr beneficiary's cepacity, and gratification at her success.

CHARLEY SALIBBURY, THE ACTOR .- Many of our citizens are famillar with the name of Charley Salisbury, the comedian. He is a son of the late Smith H. Salisbury, of Buffalo, and has long been noterious, alike for his practical jokes and for the wild, wayward life he led. We are glad to see that a second chapter of hie history has begun. The New York Christian Advocate end Journal gives a long and interesting account of his conversion, and of the public evowal he made of it in a prayer meeting of the Central M. E. Church, of Newark, New Jersey. It seems that he went to Newark a week or two ago to play an engagement. His name was recognized on the play-bill by a sister he had not eeen for years, and who is the wife of a Methodist olergyman in that city. She weited for him at the door of the theeter on Saturday night and took him bome with her, and, through her Christian influence, he was led to Christ. We eineerely trust that Salisbury
